

FRISCO WILL GET TWELVE ENGINES

Six New Steel Dining Cars Are
Also To Be Delivered
Soon

The Frisco expects to receive 12 new locomotives of the 1200 class from the Dunkirk plant of the American Locomotive company about September 10. They will be assigned to the Eastern division and have an improvement over the 1260 class engines here, among them the Cole patent superheaters.

Beginning August 30 the company also will receive six new steel dining cars from the American Car and Foundry company at St. Charles, Mo., which be the finest cars in the west. The interior finish will be solid mahogany and electricity will light them, the fixtures being especially for this equipment, and includes many new and beautiful designs. The cars are 70 feet long, but will only seat 30 people at the tables, as unusual space has been given to the kitchen so as to insure the very best of service.—Springfield Leader.

Roy Brown came in Friday from New Mexico, where he entered a homestead claim. He seems to like the country fine.

A telegram to L. R. McNatt last Monday announced the death of his sister, Mrs. Emma Clarkson, of San Diego, Cal. Mrs. Clarkson went west on account of poor health several ago, and about a year ago they sold their farm south of town to S. O. Moore, the present owner. She leaves her husband and several brothers and sisters to mourn her loss.

On the evening of August 12th Mr. Martin Goetz's little girl, Cassie, was seriously hurt. Mr. Goetz was cutting some large weeds with the mower and ran into the little girl with the sickle as she was getting some peaches that had fallen among the weeds. The weeds hid her so that he did not know she was about until he heard her screams. He thumb was mangled and leg cut in many places. Dr. Jones, of Monett, was called, and it was found necessary to take her thumb off and to take several stitches in her limb. She is doing nicely at this writing. The family live on Stone's Prairie.

FLOWERY KINGDOM AWAKING

Large Percentage of Chinese People
Now Fully Alive to Potentialities of Their Race.

"It is obviously impossible," says Sir Robert Bredon, acting inspector general of Chinese customs, who is now in England, "for the world at large to treat as a negligible quantity, either politically or industrially, a homogeneous race of 400,000,000 human beings, a large percentage of whom are now fully alive to the potentialities of their race and country." As an instance of the changes in Peking alone, Sir Robert says that "the old, unpaved, mephitic thoroughfares are giving way to spacious macadamized roads, lighted by electricity in place of the old-fashioned oil lamps. An adequate and pure-water supply on European lines has replaced the old surface wells."

Perhaps the most amazing progress in Chinese internal administration is that recorded in connection with the postal service. In illustration of this Sir Robert says: "Foot and horse couriers now penetrate into extreme western China 2,000 miles and we have postal lines flung as far as Tibet. There is also a money-order system all over China, an express delivery service in every big city. There are 4,000 native post offices, employing 15,000 persons, of whom not more than 200 are foreigners."

"Again," says Sir Robert, "the sedan chair is being superseded among the wealthy Chinese by the use of broughams drawn by splendid horses of Australian breed. The police force of Peking is now organized on American lines and effectively controls traffic in the streets."

"As regards the educational movement," he reports, "it is significant that many high officials are maintaining schools at their own expense. There is, for instance, the case of the wife of a Mongol prince, who has at least fifty Chinese girls in a private school, which she maintains."

NEEDED MONEY

Salesman—I'd like to sell you an automobile.

Millionaire—I can't afford it. My daughter is going to marry Lord de Broke next week.

PIED THE PIES.

Angered at being separated from two small elephants for which they have a great affection, two big elephants belonging to a circus charged wildly down the main street of Greeley, Col., in pursuit of a baker's wagon. The driver of the wagon, after a mad gallop which scattered bread and pies for blocks, escaped. The elephants, which were chained together, chased through a fence into the front yard of a residence, tearing up lawn and shrubbery. They were stopped by a stout maple tree on either side of which they attempted to pass. During the excitement a horse dropped dead from fright.

DIET FOR HIGH ALTITUDES.

It was noted during the cruises of the ill-fated airship Deutschland that caviar and champagne was the fare found most palatable by passengers in high altitudes. Only viands of piquant and delicate flavor appeal to the exhilarated mood of the travelers. The appetites on board are healthy, and "air sickness" seems to exist as a terror only in the imagination.

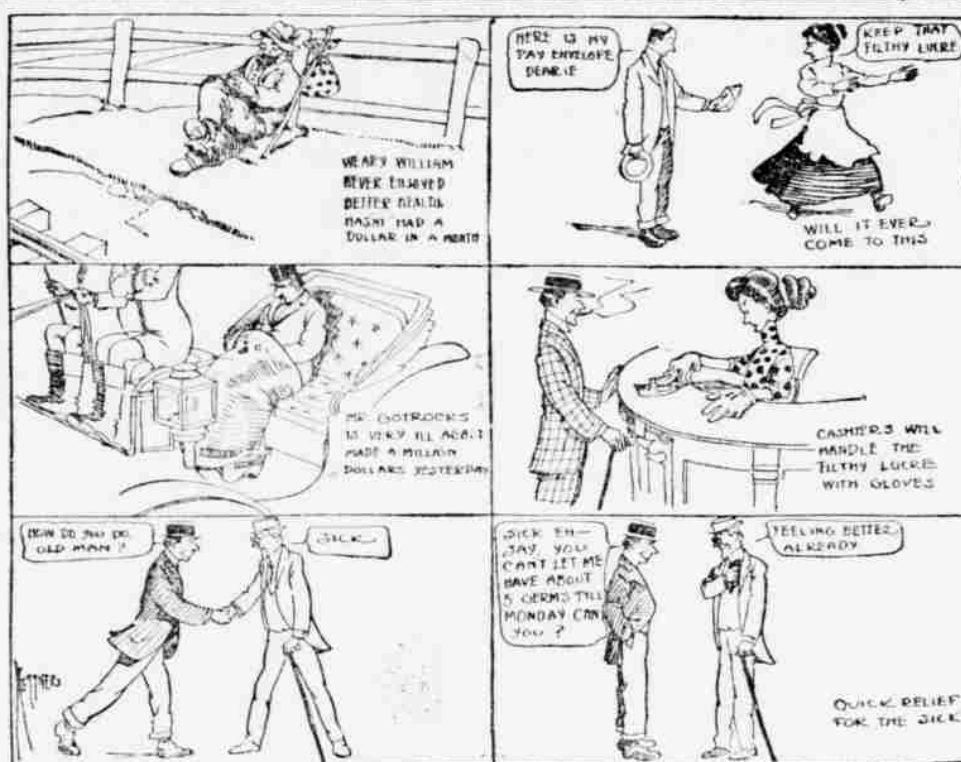

FETTERS.

Knicker—Did you lay your treasures at her feet?
Becker—Yes, but her skirt was too narrow for her to get them.

THE WORST ADVICE.

"What's the worst advice you ever got?"
"A friend told me to use my own judgment."

JOPLIN 9; MONETT 3

The Joplin League team and the Midgets played their third game at Athletic Park Sunday. The Joplin nine won the game by a score of 9 to 3. Monett started out well and made three scores in the first four innings. Their luck changed, however, and they were unable to bring in another man. The batteries were Combs and Rolley, Myers, Bell and Harlow.

A special train brought in several hundred people from Sarcoxie to root for the Joplin team.

Following is the score:

SUCCESS MAGAZINE FOR AUGUST

The Leading feature of the August number of "Success Magazine" is a most absorbing novelette called "Molly Make-Believe," by Eleanor Hallowell Abbott. It is a story of unusual originality and fascination. "Tariff Marking by Barter and Sale" by Arthur I. Street, in his series: "Uncle Sam in Blunderland" contains extracts from interviews with Senators who have had a leading part in the making of our tariff, and also shows the real way the tariff was made. In "The Preacher and a Potato" William Justin Harsha describes in a very interesting way his profitable step from the pulpit to the farm.

Other good summer fiction features are "Janey Takes Her Pen in Hand" by Inez Haynes Gilmore; and "The Knockers," by Zane Gray; "The Shears of Destiny," by Leroy Scott, comes in for its including installment. Orison Swett Marden's editorial for the month entitled "The Divinity of Desire." There are poems by Richard Wightman and Arthur Stringer.

August time, tells on the nerves. But that spiritless, no ambition feeling can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative, improvement will be noticed. Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning. Outside influences depress first the "inside nerves," then the stomach, heart and kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again. Sold by all dealers.
